CIVIL CASES WILL BE HEARD IN DISTRICT COURT

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR IS ENDEAVORING TO RECOVER FUNDS FROM W. ENGER

A question of law will be argued in the case of L. L. Blumenthal versus William Enger today in the district court. The case, after the law point is decided, will be submitted to a jury trial. It involves a sum of money belonging to an estate collected by Enger when he was county clerk, and which he appropriated for his own use, evidently conceiving the notion that the estate belonged to him. Enger has since left the country and his whereabouts are unknown.

The hearing of an order to show cause why a restraining order should not be issued, will be argued today before the court, in the case of John Davidson versus the Round Mountain Milling company.

At yesterday's session of court a number of small cases were disposed of and several were set for trial.
